

Drama: Oktoberblütenfest

Chronicle: What a Wonderful Bavaria
Era: 2019
In-game Start: Wed 2019/09/18 12:00

Description: The theme is the first encounter of a pack of garou in Germany, in the Bayern Länder, in a context where no garou as risen in Bavarian in ten years. They will face a terrible scheme prepared by a powerful alliance of a Sabbat vampires and Pentex operatives, first has mortals, then has warriors of Gaia. The drama is roughly designed as an introduction to WaWWoD, with PC starting apparently as human protagonists, and revealing themselves garou during the turn of events.

Cast: Albrecht Tiberius [Lasombra 8th (Austrian Sabbat/Tiberius Swords)], Rudi Blauerschnee []
Timeline: Curse of Vraduka
Exact place: Blasensaft Brauerei

Preamble

Tiberius has found a new way to claim territories for the Sabbat in the old world. To avoid the clumsiness of Sabbat activities, he decided to run this himself from Venezia, using allies outside the kindred factions, a subsidiary company of Pentex called NEA (New Enterprises Association, owner of MasterClass, DataRobot, CollectiveHealth (linked to Pfizer via a board of director member, Scott Gottlieb), Uber, Twitter). NEA, among the myriad of new enterprises it sponsors, has a brand new brewery in Munich, called Blasensaftbrauerei. This firm, lead by a deviant former called Rudi Blauerschnee is protected for the occasion by a pack of black spiral dancers, the Pentacle. Blauerschnee and Tiberius are old acquaintances, and the plan they are about to brew is one that had a long time ago designed: to propagate the taste of vampire blood through a beverage, using a spiritual vector in the water to have the diluted solution effect preserved inside an important batch. The gain for NEA is to be the only provider of the recipe, directly from Munich.

Description

A lot of vampire blood is necessary, the amount of seven neonate vampires, to make a batch. It can hence be done with shovelheads. Even if the blood is part of the recipe, this is not the real blood that will infuse the potion: it will help to invoke the an avatar of Alkarahol, the Incarna of Addiction, a powerful Wyrms spirit which is then fused in the batch like a spirit can be caught inside an object to make a fetish. If none of the batch has been drink in 7 days, the power of the batch disappear. It will disappear anyway 7 weeks after the drinking of the first bottle. The proportion of vampire blood must absolutely be respected and must not be mixed with whatever other blood, or it will create a perverse version of the product: not a drink that gives the drinker the desire to drink vampire blood, but only the state when craving for vampire blood: fever, stomach troubles, headaches, trouble breathing. The trouble is that this curse can be transmitted by touch and by breath contact.

Consequences

Among the shovelheads made to prepare the first batch, 8 will rise normally. Seven of them will feed on the last one, and will be conducted to Blasensaft Brauerei.

Later, Paola Bommer, the ninth shovelhead will rise from the site, afraid and scared. She will feed on two innocent bystanders, Dominic Shaun and Rafik Tamahar, two technicians working on the site at night to fix power issues for the village of Landberg am Lech.

Preamble

There are many strange things happening this year in Munich during the Oktoberfest. There's a new Prince in the City since the 90's, Princess Ursula. With her arrival, a more conservative stance has been adopted that has stopped the development of kindreds in the City, but fortified their positions, especially against the sabbat raging through Austria. So far, the Munich Camarilla has been easily able to endure the direct assaults from the austrian Swords of Caine while maintaining the Masquerade. One thing in particular is the peak in criminal activities among a lot of local drug cartels. In the shadows, the Princess of Munich suspects a group of Sabbat packs coming from Austria. She has yet no proof but she is right, the Swords of Bishop Tiberius, an old vampire of lasombra clan, have come to Munich to set a terrible plan for September 28. Not aware of exactly what the Sabbat is planning, the Princess of Munich as asked the Camarilla kindred to prepare for the worse, sending wartime cotteries all around the City and keeping the sheriff, Ludmilla Delatour, a powerful venture especially on the coverage of Oktoberfest. She will of course be there every nights, keeping her most efficient ghouls (Piotr Stravinski in particular) during daylight. On sunday 22, Ludmilla will be aware that something happened to the bus to Innsbruck, and by night she will send two of her coterie deputies, Konrad Heisen (Toreador) and Erik Wiener (Malkavian) to get more informations.

Description

The nosferatu of the underworld, answering to the Elder Bismark had eye witnesses of the Swords operation on the road to Innsbruck. The Primogen Council has been gathered. Ursula Eidenstadt has become Prince of Munich following the actions of the Sabbat on the City thirty years ago. Some, among the Toreador, Brujah and the Tremere would gladly let her meet the final death if for whatever reason proof was given she worked with the Sabbat to obtain such a promotion.

The Toreador and Brujah have lost their primogens and other elders during the fight, and the tremere are the ones who really had contacts with the sabbat, such a situation is than understandable.

And the first to understand that is Ursula. She genuinely hates the sabbat, but she spent even more resources on this witch hunt to prove herself legit has the Prince of Munich.

Consequences

Ludmilla Obermann, and Elder Ventruie has been chosen to watch sabbat activity during Oktoberfest. This is not a replacement to what is actually done every year, but a reinforcement.

Preamble

After identification of the events in Hopfbräu Tent as a Sabbat attack, council of the Elder is called upon by Princess Ursula.

Description

Sabbat implication in the events during the Wiesn make no doubt. The Prince decides there must be consequences.

Consequences

Forces are gathered to act against the infection:

1. Nosferatut of the Underworld will roam the outer neighborhood of Munich take actions against every Sabbat insurgent. They are commanded no to interact if lupines are involved.
2. In the Wiesn, Ludmilla Obermann has obtained Carte Blanche to do the same, with the support of Konrad Heisen and Erik Wiener.

Description

It's the inquisition that will bring the PC together, represented by a member of the Society of Leopold, Otto Werner. Werner is responsible for the occult activities in Munich, and he is a man prepared... to fight Vampires. The two agents from the BND and the MAD present are two allies of his and constitute an quite effective backup. For him to get involved with the PC, it only takes them to witness something about the vampires and it should be enough. Having specific orders to be very stealthy in its activities, he will try whatever he can to have people witnessing strange things interrogated and mislead to avoid rumors to spread. During his mission, he will find vampires as he expects; but sabbat kindreds, the local Camarilla being already aware of his activities. His primary target is Nestor. He had contacts with Society in Bergamo where the Brujah Antitribu already had issues with local mafia gangs. He has proofs on a digital crypted 256Gb SD card (a copy of the original kept by the Society) in his vault at Digi-Key GmbH.

Cast: Brigid Strauss [], Fabio Fenzi [], Federica Marzzi [], Karl Steiner [], Piotr Stravinski [Ghoul of]
Exact place: All around Oktoberfest site.

Preamble

Introducing Vidar Grímsdóttir, a former melter worker in small security jobs here and there, trying to find a way to start a decent career in a decent activity. Among the few friends of Vidar, there is Rina Poulsen, with which he has almost a sibling relationship. He went to germany following her.

Description

This year, Vidar is Security Contact Officer for Oktoberfest. It's a double pay job, but with much more responsibility and much more meetings. This is the first of them, where he got breifed about everything a security manager must now. It's a 3 hours meeting with 20 guys attending. Each guy will have 3 to 8 people working with him. Vidar learns about the missing waitress, a girl named Brigid Strauss, presented as Miss B. Strauss. Few time later, Brunhilde comes to him to say that she is late.

The SCO, about 30 guys, are introduced to Detective Karl Steiner, the guy in charge from the Lander police. Once again, he hopes he will be useless, but he cares about drug activites and wants the SCO to keep both eyes opened on the subject. Fabio Fenzi, an italian maffioso is known to operate in the sector since a few monthes, and he wants to keep Fenzi guys out of the game. Steiner introduce his assistant on the matter from the italian DIS, Federica Marzzi.

Piotr Stravinski is present during this meeting but is not introduced. It appears anyway has a field detective, and not the kind of guy to mess with.

Consequences

As a ghoul of the Prince, Stravinski is her eyes and ears at daytime. A couple centuries old, most shovelheads or sabbat neonates should not be a threat to him. He is among the few characters in the story that has, as a complement to the standard GSG9 ordinance (the German SWAT) a 1943 .45 English revolver loaded with plain silver bullets. He can be a good ally in fight against supernatural creatures)

Cast: Sarah Strijd [Cliath Homid Galliard of the Black Furies (Sept of the Five Leaves)]

Exact place: The Neupinakotheka of Munich

Preamble

Introducing Sarah, a would be artist and more escort that could slowly fall into drugs. She's here with a friend of hers, Arjan Kötter, that came here happy to buy the latest BMW M8 Gran Coupé. Arjan is not exactly a friend. Some would say a VIP client. Anyway the guy has a lot of money and his a gentleman. Sarah thinks that it is a nice deal to balance his clumsiness with girls (he surely never read the documentation) with her clumsiness in life. They directly came from Rotterdam with his Porsche (not a car suited to please the peaceful traveller looking for pretty vistas) and have plan to enjoy a suite at the Marriot (with two rooms). She went only once in Munich, a long time ago with a small sister that is now a model in Los Angeles, and she really remembers how she fell in love with the city. Perhaps there she will finally try to paint... an impossible deed where she comes from as she always supposed to be the model... Bavarian air seems to be such a relief compared to the night life of Amsterdam.

Description

While Arjan is dealing with delivery of his new car, Sarah goes to the Pinakotheka to see the expo. Inside the expo is a central room that can only be reached through the Umbra. This room is the consequence of the actions of Century the Marauder.

A garou will automatically step sideways by reaching the glass walls around the room. In the penumbra, all spirits will stay hidden to watch the actions of whoever enter the room. Before arriving to the pinakotheka, Sarah and Arjan will witness a terrible storm that will last a few minutes. The storm is closely centered around the Pinakotheka, but it is not easy to realize that (Wits+Science). This is the mundane consequence of what just happened in the Umbra.

Consequences

This place is the result of the victory of Century the Marauder against the Epsilon Mechanoid. When the High Wizard destroyed the Iteration, it fell into pieces, quickly melting into the environment. The quintessence flow was absorbed by the place in the Umbra, thus strenghtening all spirits in slumber. Among them, Brunhilde came up to life and called for an immediate meeting of her court.

In the center of the Pinakotheka, the gauntlet strength is 0 and will come back to 3 at the rate of 1 per moon cycle. The sleepers around are feeling some comfort around and will probably will be more present for the next couple of months.

As only Gaian spirits where presents during the event, only Brunhilde and her court were strengthened by the battle, and thus spirits of the weaver and the wyrm are only lurking from some distance.

Preamble

Introducing Anneke, a future The Voice idol, ready to participate in Oktober to the German edition of the show. She has come to Oktoberfest with her dear friend Marcia Donorf. Anneke seriously leaks self-confidance, and it's because of her friend, twenty years older than her and bearing some kind of super-sister-aunty vibe that she went so far in this TV show challenge. Munich will be for them a deserved break. But in reality Anneke doesn't care that much. She knows it's going to be a terrible challenge, but deep inside of her she once again feels that this is not what she is supposed to do. Sometimes, she even thinks that at 34 a music career might not be what she is supposed to do with a life. Anyway, she doesn't know why, she follows the advice of Marcia most of the time. Divorced three times, no children at 52, living from three part time jobs and has astrologist/therapist, the tall blonde has always been for Anneke a figure of wisdom.

Description

A spirit of the court of Bavaria is manifesting around the the Bavaria Statue. During a visit around Bavaria statue, one of the players realize there is a young boy, around 6 years old, playing alone with pebbles around the statue.

Preamble

Introducing Krieg, a native of former East Germany from Berlin. He still has the mark of something that touched more his parents than himself and cannot help himself than to survive from petty illegal activities, involving drugs and occasionally weapons deals instead of choosing for a decent job. Absolutely not a bad guy, more the kind of punk that let his seat to the old ladies in the morning and run away from cops at night. Krieg went to Oktoberfest this year to catch up with his best friend, Josef Tilmann. They didn't see each other from a long time, especially since Josef went to the United States to study with computers. Krieg doesn't understand exactly what his friend does, but he knows that each time, it's some kind of magic. And the kind of magic Jo gets from Krieg, it's when it's about the ladies. In that field, his friend is the master. That's going to be nice to catch up again ! An it will be nice to crouch at Bergit and Franz mansion (Jo's parents) like fifteen years ago. Except this time Krieg did bring a crate of Chateau Cheval Blanc instead of stealing schnaps.

Preamble

The missing neighbourhood, Mrs Paola Bommer was among the passengers of the Innsbruck Bus. She has been turned into a shovelhead by the sabbat pack. She managed to escape them (she was a late riser), and, freaked out and disoriented, she tried to go back to familiar grounds.... and came back home to see her beloved husband.

Objectives

Avoid Paola killing to many innocent people. Avoid her getting killed.

Description

Consequences

Mr Bommer or the Tilmanns could be killed if the PC do not intervene.

Rewards

Mrs Bommer, if it is possible to calm a thirst for human blood, might willingly cooperate. She knows where she has been killed and remembers who did that. She doesn't know the names exactly, but

■ HEROIC ■ BATTLE ■ DREAM ■ Sc:0003

Date: 2019-09-25 00:00:00
Location: Umbra
Custom time (D H): 7 0
Cast: Grigori Zentgraf [Cliath Homid Ragabash of the Gets of Fenris (Sept of the Five Leaves)]

Preamble

Sparrow, a long time ago supported Fenris to be the Alpha in the Heart of battle. He had the last vote, and thanks to him Falcon and Father Thunder were beaten. Fenris kept is promise and welcomed the small bird in his brood. But no get of Fenris pack even dared asking the small bird for animal token. Now, no one even knows that Sparrow is from the brood of Fenris.

Description

During a battle in human form, there are great chances against the Sabbat that there will be casualties among the players. This scene is to be played after Krieg has been mortally wounded. He is lying incapacitated in a coridor, his back against the wall, barely conscious and pressing his chest wound. Let the player think he is going to die. After a while, he woke up still in the same condition. He might think that it's his last breath. He is now in the Umbra and time has stopped. A small bird has come to see him, eating a few grains of rice on the floor. After what seems to be an eternity, the chirping of the bird become understandable speech. He ask Krieg if his mission is over. If he has reached his purpose in life. If not (probably not), the small bird declares that he is a great warrior among the brood of mighty warriors, but that he neither has reached his purpose in life, obtaining full membership of the brood of Fenris by being supported by one of his children. As he sees their mutual benefices, sparrows make a proposal: let's have both of them a chance to fulfill their destiny.

Consequences

Krieg japanese bow will be turned into a fetish by sparrow. This fetish is hidden as a tatoo on the heart on all forms. By passing a gnosis check, the sparrow bow reveals itself (automatically in the Umbra). It's a normal bow that needs arrows to be fired. However, by succeeding a gnosis roll (DV 6), it's possible with this bow to fire a mystic arrow. If the number of success indicate the quality of the hit. A mystical arrow, built from the being of Gaia will endure no obstacle between itself and the Wyrms. Arrows fired with the Sparrow bow do aggravated damage.

Rewards

Sparrow becomes an Ally (1) of the character that a earns a Fetish (3) background as well.
