List of all Places

Umbra

In the Spirit World

This goes past the gauntlet to the penumbra and near Umbra. Storyteller discretion for everything between the Near Umbra and the Membrane.

Around

Mostly the scene location

Or that can be reached by the end of the scene

Close

Location adjacent to the current scene

Can be reached in two scenes.

Remote

Remote location

Faraway

Far away from the current scene

Overthere

Potentially unreachable location (downtime or event here, this is the backstage of the drama)

A full drama or even epic is necessary to reach this place. This can be Vienna Inner Council chamber of the Camarilla, the capital city of another country or another Umbral Realm beyond the membrane. The wraiths Deep Umbra enters in this category.

Events

Those special scenes happen out of the scope of the players. They reflect the plans of the antagonists and allies, their natural reactions. They do not change anything most of the time, but if they are linked to another scene, that scene might show the consequences of an event.

The Toreador and Brujah have lost their primogens and other elders during the fight, and the tremere are the ones who really had contacts with the sabbat, such a situation is than understandable. And the first to understand that is Ursula. She genuinely hates the sabbat, but she spent even more resources on this witch hunt to prove herself legit has the Prince of Munich.

Preamble: This year, Vidar is Security Contact Officer for Oktoberfest. It's double pay, but much more responsibility and much more meetings. This is the first of them.

Description:Vidar learns about the missing waitress, a girl named Brigid Strauss, presented as Miss B. Strauss. Few time later, Brunhilde comes to him to say that she is late. The SCO, about 30 guys, are introduced to Detective Karl Steiner, the guy in charge from the Lander police. Once again, he hopes he will be useless, but he cares about drug activites and wants the SCO to keep both eyes opened on the subject. Fabio Fenzi, an italian maffioso is known to operate in the sector since a few monthes, and he wants to keep Fenzi guys out of the game. Steiner introduce his assistant on the matter from the italian DIS, Federica Marzzi. Piotr Stravinski is present during this meeting but is not introduced. It appears anyway has a field detective, and not the kind of guy to mess with.

Consequences: As a ghoul of the Prince, Stravinski is her eyes and ears at daytime. A couple centuries old, most shovelheads or sabbat neonates should not be a threat to him. He is among the few characters in the story that has, as a complement to the standard GSG9 ordinance (the german SWAT) a 1943 .45 english revolver loaded with plain silver bullets.

Rewards: As a ghoul of the Prince, Stravinski is her eyes and ears at daytime. A couple centuries old, most shovelheads or sabbat neonates should not be a threat to him. Preamble: While Arjan is dealing with delivery of his new car, Sarah goes to the Pinakotheka to see the expo. Inside the expo is a central room that can only be reached through the Umbra. This room is the consequence of the actions of Century the Marauder. A garou will automatically step sideways by reaching the glass walls around the room. In the penumbra, all spirits will stay hidden to watch the actions of whoever enter the room.

Description:Before arriving to the pinakotheka, Sarah and Arjan will witness a terrible storm that will last a few minutes. The storm is closely centered around the Pinakotheka, but it is not easy to realize that (Wits+Science). This is the mundane consequence of what just happened in the Umbra.

Consequences: This place is the result of the victory of Century the Marauder against the Epsilon Mechanoid. When the High Wizard destroyed the Iteration, it fell into pieces, quickly melting to the environment. The quintessence flow was absorbed by the place in the Umbra, thus strenghtening all spirits in slumber. Among them, Brunhilde came up to life and called for an immediate meeting of her court. In the center of the Pinakotheka, the gauntlet strength is 0 and will come back to 3 at the rate of 1 per moon cycle.The sleepers around are feeling some comfort around and will probably will be more present for the next couple of months. As only Gaian spirits where presents during the event, only Brunhilde and her court were strengthened by the battle, and thus spirits of the weaver and the wyrm are only lurking from some distance.

H168 - Rise of the Sparrow

■ HEROIC ■ BATTLE ■ DREAM

Date: 2019-09-25 00:00:00

Location: Umbra

Day/hours: 7 0

Cast:

Preamble: Sparrow, a long time ago supported Fenris to be the Alpha in the Heart of battle. He had the last vote, and thanks to him Falcon and Father Thunder were beaten. Fenris kept is promise and welcomed the small bird in his brood. But no get of Fenris pack even dared asking the small bird for animal token. Now, no one even knows that Sparrow is from the brood of Fenris.

Description:During a battle in human form, there are great chances against the Sabbat that there will be casualties among the players. This scene is to be played after Krieg has been mortally wounded. He is lying incapacitated in a coridor, his back against the wall, barely conscious and pressing his chest wound. Let the player think he is going to die. After a while, he woke up still in the same condition. He might think that it's his last breath. He is now in the Umbra and time has stopped. A small bird has come to see him, eating a few grains of rice on the floor. After what seems to be an eternity, the chirping of the bird become understandable speech. He ask Krieg if his mission is over. If he has reached his purpose in life. If not (probably not), the small bird declares that he is a great warrior among the brood of mighty warriors, but that he neither has reached his purpose in life, obtaining full membership of the brood of Fenris by being supported by one of his children. As he sees their mutual benefices, sparrows make a proposal: let's have both of them a chance to fulfill their destiny.

Consequences: Krieg japanese bow will be turned into a fetish by sparrow. This fetish is hidden as a tatoo on the heart on all forms. By passing a gnosis check, the sparrow bow reveals itself (automatically in the Umbra). It's a normal bow that needs arrows to be fired. However, by succeeding a gnosis roll (DV 6), it's possible with this bow to fire a mystic arrow. If the number of success indicate the quality of the hit. A mystical arrow, built from the being of Gaia will endure no obstacle between itself and the Wyrms. Arrows fired with the Sparrow bow do aggravated damage.
