Timeline

1997 - Naissance

A Frankfurt-am-Maine, de Lisa Broem, père inconnu. Enfant non désiré, n'aura pas beaucoup de lien avec sa mère.

2011 - Internat

Part en internat à Hambourg où il a décroché une bourse.

2015 - Mariage

Sa mère se remarie avec un routier alcoolique, Kurt Vadisla. La cérémonie ne se passe pas sans heurts. C'est la dernière fois qu'il a des nouvelles de sa mère.

2016 - Frederike

Rencontre avec Frederike lors d'une sortie moto avec des amis. Ne reste pas insensible au charme mais ne la reverra pas par la suite... avant quelques temps. Il garde le souvenir de "la motarde"

2018 - Diplômes

Les études se passent bien et les diplômes arrivent. Essaye de reprendre des nouvelles avec sa mère qui reste globalement froide.

2019 - Le Joueur d'Echecs

Etudiant à Hambourg, fait un jour la rencontre de l'ami d'une professeure de philosophie, Georg. Un homme étrange qu'il cotoie longtemps en soirée d'un bistrot à l'autre, avec très souvent des discussions philosophiques passionnantes autour d'une partie d'échecs. Découvre à cette époque que Georg est entouré d'une nuée de personne et qu'il est au-delà du simple orateur. Sans savoir que la société vampirique se dévoile à lui, sent qu'il y a autre chose que ce que l'on connaît.

2023 - L'enjeu

Tout est parti d'une discussion passionnée avec Georg, conclue par une simple phrase: "Vous me dites qu'il y a un moyen de savoir si tout ce que nous évoquons peut fonctionner sur le long terme. Faisons un marché: si je gagne cette partie, vous me le ferez découvrir." Georg accepta, et par un coup du sort fut battu pour la première fois par le jeuneot. Trois semaines plus tard, il était devenu vampire, avec plus de questions qu'il en avait au départ.

2024 - Cerise sur le gateau

Au terme de son année d'apprentissage du monde vampirique, fut présenté au second de George, un femme nommée Frederike qui le prit à son tout sous sa tutelle.

Archetypes

VISIONARY [nature: what you are]

The Visionary is strong enough to look beyond the mundane and perceive the truly wondrous. Visionaries test accepted societal limits, and seek what few others have the courage to imagine. The Visionary rarely takes satisfaction in what society has to offer; she prefers to encourage society to offer what it could instead of what it does. Typically, society responds poorly to Visionaries, though it is they who are responsible for bringing about progress and change. Philosophers, inventors and the most inspired artists often have Visionary Archetypes.

System: Regain a point of Willpower each time you are able to convince others to have faith in your dreams and follow the course of action dictated by your vision.

TRICKSTER [demeanor: how you behave]

The Trickster finds the absurd in everything. No matter how grim life (or unlif) may become, the Trickster always uncovers a kernel of humor within it. Tricksters cannot abide sorrow or pain, and so they strive to lighten the spirits of those around them. Some Tricksters have even higher ideals, challenging static dogma by exposing its failures in humorous ways. Comedians, satirists and social critics are examples of Trickster Archetypes.

Merits & Flaws

About Disciplines

CELERITY: ●●●○○ -

System: The character spends a single blood point. The next turn, she gains a number of additional full actions equal to her Celerity rating. These additional actions must be physical (e.g., the vampire cannot use a mental Discipline like Dominate multiple times in one turn). So a vampire with Celerity 4 who spends a blood point may perform a total of five physical actions in her next turn. The actions occur at the end of the turn (the vampire's regular action still takes place per her initiative roll). Normally, a character without Celerity must apply a dice pool penalty if she wants to take multiple actions in a single turn. A character using Celerity performs his extra actions (including full movement) without penalty, gaining a full dice pool for each separate action. Extra actions gained through Celerity may not in turn be split into multiple actions.

PRESENCE: ●●●●○ - Entrancement

System: The player rolls Appearance + Empathy (difficulty of the target's permanent Willpower); the number of successes determines how long the subject is entranced (see the chart below). The Storyteller may wish to make the roll instead, since the character is never certain of the strength of her hold on the victim. The vampire may try to keep the subject under her thrall, but can do so only after the initial Entrancement wears off. Attempting this power while Entrancement is already in operation has no effect.

PRESENCE: ●●●○○ - Dread Gaze

System: The player rolls Charisma + Intimidation (difficulty of the victim's Wits + Courage). Success indicates the victim is cowed, while failure means the target is startled but not terrified by the sight. Three or more successes means he runs away in abject fear; victims who have nowhere to run claw at the walls, hoping to dig a way out rather than face the vampire. Moreover, each success subtracts one from the target's action dice pools next turn.

PRESENCE: ●●○○○ - Awe

System: The player rolls Charisma + Performance (difficulty 7). The number of successes rolled determines how many people are affected, as noted on the chart below. If there are more people present than the character can influence, Awe affects those with lower Willpower scores first. The power stays in effect for the remainder of the scene or until the character chooses to drop it.

POTENCE: ●○○○○ -

System: The player rolls all Strength-related tests normally, but then adds an automatic success for each point he has in Potence. Thus, the character succeeds at most Strength feats without needing to make a roll at all. In melee and brawling combat, the automatic successes are applied to the damage roll results.
